

Tola

Tola is an elegant, sculpted armchair that brings an architectural presence and refined comfort to contemporary interior landscapes. Tola shares both the appearance of hospitality and the ergonomics of workplace. Ideally suited to receptions, lobbies, breakout spaces, and collaborative meeting rooms. Combining bold architectural form with the subtle tactile luxury of tailored upholstery, its defining feature is a unified panel base that seamlessly integrates the seat, arms, and legs into a singular sculptural silhouette.

Design by Allermuir Design Studio

This structured form is softened by precise vertical stitching along the seat back, contouring the body in considered, supportive comfort.
